TORNADO IN ILLINOIS.

Severe Storm Sweeps Across Logan, DeWitt and Platt Counties.

ONE DEAD AND SCORES INJURED.

Another Hurled Across a Village Street and Fatally Injured—Infant Son Found Dead in Storm's Path—Communication Cut Off With Wayneville.

Springfield, Ill., April 13.—One death, a fatal injury, and a score or more of injured resulted from a tornado that swept over Logan, DeWitt and Platt counties, Sunday afternoon. The fatality occurred in the Haldsader settlement, a little farming community, three miles from Atwood, Platt county.

The home of Clifford Haldsader was demolished and after the storm Haldsader's infant son was found dead, 300 feet from the place where the house stood. The baby was lying in bed when the wind struck the house. Mrs. Haldsader was hurled across the village street and fatally injured. Mrs. J. B. Martin's home was destroyed, and several guests were painfully injured.

Deer creek, in Logan county, where the storm first struck was swept dry of water. Reports from this district state that three houses were destroyed and a number of people more less injured.

Supervisor Adam Schanauer's handsome residence was destroyed. Mrs. Baldwin and two farm hands took refuge in a smokehouse in which they were hurled several hundred feet and painfully injured.

It is reported that the town of Wayneville and the blue grass districts east of Atlanta were struck and much damage resulted, but communication with these points are cut off.

MACHINERY BLOWN AWAY.

Storm Follows a Creek, Passing From Southwest to Northwest. Lincoln, Ill., April 13.—Three farm residences were destroyed, several persons were injured and grain and machinery were blown away Sunday by a tornado which swept over the country, four miles east of Lincoln. The storm followed Deer creek and passed from the southwest to the northwest. The wind is reported to have struck the town of Wayneville.

ONE MAN STRUCK DOWN.

Storm Breaks Over Pittsburg, Pa., With Terrifying Swiftness. Pittsburg, Pa., April 13.—With terrifying swiftness the thunder storm which came out of the west Sunday evening crashed over Pittsburg, pouring miniature rivers through streets, flooding cellars and inflicting damage that will reach thousands of dollars. One man was killed by lightning and many buildings were struck. Irving Tilson, of DuBois, Pa., while walking from one building to another at the Dixmont insane asylum, where he is employed, was struck down by a bolt. He was dead when picked up. The congregation of Christ M. E. church in Center avenue, was stormbound. The street for blocks was flooded.

In Wilkensburg the cloudburst poured through the valley. People were driven into the second stories of their homes. The loss to property in the Thirty-seventh ward was great. A house in Coal street was almost swept from its foundation. Street car tracks were lost under two feet of water. Thousands of feet of lumber were carried away from a Pitt street yard on the Pennsylvania. A road sign tower of the Pennsylvania railroad was struck by lightning and the adjoining passenger station was fired.

CLOUDBURST IN INDIANA.

County Commissioner Raymond and Wife Drowned While Returning From Church Near Henryville. Henryville, Ind., April 13.—A cloudburst at noon Sunday, flooded this part of Clark county, and did great damage. The heavy fall of water has extended north as far as Sellersburg and Seymour. County Commissioner Raymond and wife were drowned while crossing Blue Lick creek after church. The waters had risen so rapidly that their buggy was swept away. Both bodies were recovered.

STATE ITEMS.

Live Stock at World's Fair.

The live stock department of the Louisiana Purchase exposition was virtually organized only since the first of the year, and hence its plans are far less advanced than is desirable. Work on the classifications and the rules and regulations governing exhibits is now, however, being energetically pushed by the department's chief, Mr. P. D. Colburn, who is placing himself in the closest possible touch with breeders of improved stock everywhere with a view of utilizing their best ideas for making their feature of the great exposition what it should be. The exposition management has planned an exhibition on a scale about twice as large as that of any previous international exposition. The cost of the World's Columbian exposition at Chicago was about $19,000,000; the estimated cost of the St. Louis World's fair is near $40,000,000. The live stock interests at the Louisiana Purchase exposition are likely to be given proportionate attention. Classification will include all recognized improved breeds. It is expected the friends of all the varieties of live stock, poultry, pet stock, as well as horses, cattle and other ruminants and swine, will find at St. Louis much greater recognition than has been given them on any previous occasion.

Bank Robbery at Smithton.

A fierce battle between bank robbers and citizens took place at two o'clock in the morning at Smithton, eight miles east of Sedalia. The fusillade of bullets and buckshot went wild, however, and so far as can be learned, none of the participants on either side was wounded. The burglars, supposed to be three in number, first blew open the vault of the Smithton bank with nitroglycerin, and then made an ineffectual effort to blow open the safe. When this failed they turned their attention to 20 private deposit boxes belonging to the patrons of the bank. They emptied the contents of the boxes on the vault floor and carried off a large number of valuables, including about $250 worth of postage stamps belonging to the Smithton post office, a large quantity of valuable jewelry and one or more sacks of silver coins belonging to the bank. Several bundles of blank money orders were stolen also.

A Sunday Law Decision.

The Kansas City court of appeals has decided that to move a traction engine from one spot to another along the highway on Sabbath day is labor performed on that holy day, and the doer of the work is liable to indictment and conviction for working on Sunday. It affirmed the case of the state against James Stuckey, of Platte county. "It is no sufficient excuse for work on the Lord's day that it is more convenient or profitable if then done than it would be to defer or omit it."

And Then He Fell Dead.

"My name is Wallace and I have two sisters living in Chicago. I
